

CoffeeCon Online Live
March 6, 2021
Tourism and Arts Commission Report

With the goal of increasing tourism to Warrentville, CoffeeCon's in-person event went online with a live event. This event broadcast live from Warrentville, IL, Chicago, IL, Rancho Cucamonga, CA, and Oakland, CA, featuring fourteen top coffee experts sharing their brewing techniques.

This was a technically ambitious project. CoffeeCon used live multi-camera video crews in each location. We succeeded in moving beyond a zoom call platform look. Our program looked like a live network television show because of different camera angles, professional lighting, graphic animations, all in high definition (blu-ray quality) in each location. This made the entire program watchable over its eight hours of broadcasting.

Live streaming is the broadcasting of a real-time, live video to people over the internet. The greatest and the most powerful benefit of live streaming is that people consume content on your time, and not on their time. This means that you are only engaging with people who care about you, your brand, and people that find your content entertaining and useful. Live streaming offers you a direct conversation with your customers and target audience and with each other with a live-chat feature. This makes your audience feel more connected to your brand. The topic in this case was coffee. The brand was Warrentville.

Between presentations we showcased Warrentville businesses, city government, events, and the natural beauty of the area. We also highlighted all six Warrentville Hotel/Motels. We created twelve mini story-based documentaries featuring Warrentville. They are as follows:

D & R Classic Auto Parts – Business
The Warrentville Library – City Government
Cozy Fireplace – Business
Arts on The Prairie – Events
The Warrentville Fire Department – City Government
Ed Hoy's - Business
(2) Warrentville Historical Society – City Government
Corner Bakery – Business
Blackwell Dog Park - Forest Preserve District
Two Brothers Coffee – Business
Warrentville Hotels – Business
